

Fatima Cunha

Senior Lead Product Designer +18 years of experience

fatimacunha.com allears@fatimacunha.com

Spent most of my career in agency and consultancy, from consumer to enterprise.
Led AI adoption inside a design team in the last stretch. Left a few months ago to build an app independently, experiment with AI, travel and study.
I'm comfortable making product decisions and living with the tradeoffs, not just designing and prototyping screens.

What I bring

- Making product decisions under uncertainty, and holding them.
- Protecting product quality without blocking progress.
- Raising the level of design thinking around me.

Some Projects

Pizza Hut 2025

Led the design vision and foundations of the Pizza Hut Portugal's mobile app redesign. Built the component system carrying the new brand identity, simplified core flows like delivery and takeaway, and contributed to the product copy. Balanced brand expression with user simplicity.

Vodafone Broadband 2024/2025

In-house in Vodafone's Broadband app team, working closely with engineering and research. Multi-market product that behaves differently depending on the country. Made deeply technical network controls feel clear to people who just want their Wi-Fi to work.

Herc Rentals USA 2022/2023

Product Designer on the redesign of Herc Rentals' website and app, a B2B real-time fleet management platform. Built the visual system to represent different equipment, their location and states in real time. Built the design system from scratch.

Experience

Career Break

Building with AI
Nov 2025 - Present

Designed, built, and shipped solo with AI.
Patina: 0 to 1 Android app, designed and coded solo. Live on Google Play.
Zebra Finch: Built a working bidirectional Figma-to-code agentic design system pipeline where AI generates interfaces using only the design system.

Deloitte Digital

Senior Lead Product Designer
2019 - Nov 2025

Worked across long-term product engagements with different clients, in cross-functional and international teams. Often brought into teams to help set direction, unblock decisions, and raise the quality of product thinking. Mentored designers and ran internal AI training.

Seara.com

UX/UI Designer
2007 - 2019

Worked at a small agency across products, industries, and clients. Took engagements end to end, from problem framing to delivery. Grew from junior to senior over the years. Designed the proposal that won the agency Sonae as a client, Portugal's largest retail group, in a competitive pitch.
